The background of the cover is a detailed still life painting. It features a large, dark red, woven basket overflowing with various fruits, including several large, yellowish-green pears and a few reddish-orange apples. The basket is surrounded by green and brown leaves, some of which are scattered on the surface below. In the foreground, a small, brown and white bulldog puppy is lying down, looking towards the viewer. The overall style is that of a classical oil painting, with soft lighting and fine detail.
